Fidelity's suitability as a platform provider

Fidelity International is an investment and retirement services company that enables you and your adviser to efficiently view and manage your investments all in one place. Put simply, the service is a convenient one-stop shop offering a comprehensive range of products and 'wrappers', such as ISAs and a Pension, as well as over 6,000 investment options. You also benefit from a secure online account and mobile App, so you can track the progress of your investments whenever you wish.

Established in 1969, Fidelity International is one of the UK's largest investment companies. You therefore have the comfort of knowing that your investments are being administered by a longstanding and financially-strong organisation. Reassuringly, Fidelity is a privately-owned and independent company who focus on what they are known for – investing. This philosophy has stood them in good stead and they now look after US$755 billion (as at 14 July 2023) on behalf of millions of customers around the world.

Their service is offered and managed by Financial Administration Services Limited (FASL), a Fidelity group company, and is authorised and regulated in the UK by the Financial Conduct Authority.

Financial strengths

Fidelity has a strong balance sheet and liquidity position. The company is very well capitalised with Common Equity Tier 1 capital. Further information on the company's financial position appears below.

The Fidelity Adviser Solutions ('FAS') platform is wholly owned by Fidelity International, the trading name of FIL Limited ('Fidelity'), which was established in 1969. The service is offered and managed by Financial Administration Services Limited ('FASL'), a FIL Limited Group subsidiary that is responsible for all of Fidelity's UK retail platform businesses (which includes Fidelity Personal Investing). FASL is one of a number of Fidelity businesses that form a part of the FIL Limited Group UK parent entity, FIL Holdings (UK) Ltd ('FHL'), which in turn contributes to the overall profitability of Fidelity International, which is embedded within the results for FIL Limited.

For the year ended 31 December 2022, the gross profit for FASL was £185m (compared to £161m for year ending 31 December 2021) before internal costs are applied.

For the year ended 31 December 2022, the gross profit for FHL was £1.13bn (compared to £1.06bn for year ending 31 December 2021) before internal costs are applied. For the year ended 31 December 2022, post-tax profits were £85m (compared to £117m for year ending 31 December 2021).

Fidelity has a strong balance sheet and liquidity position. On 31 December 2022 the balance sheets of FASL and the FHL Group showed net assets of £335m and £799m respectively.

The company is very well capitalised with Common Equity Tier 1 capital. During the year to 31 December 2022, FHL and all its regulated subsidiaries held own funds in excess of their Pillar 1 regulatory capital requirements.

Proven credentials

Fidelity has been providing custody, dealing and administration services to advisory organisations for 23 years, underpinned by extensive product choice, a simple charging structure, core business services and focused support. In the last five years, Fidelity has completed a highly-successful project to modernise, enhance and extend their services for Investment Accounts, ISAs and Pension. They serve a client base of over 5,000 advisory firms, administering the accounts of over 357,000 end-investors – providing access to an extensive range of funds, Investment Trusts and brokerage instruments for our advisers and any Discretionary Fund Managers we may choose to partner with.

A strong commitment to the UK market

We believe that Fidelity’s privately held status, scale, and long-term stability, aligned with 23 years’ experience provides their platform with a significant competitive advantage. As a privately-owned platform, Fidelity Adviser Solutions can commit to long-term investments and relationships. They are one of the largest investment services platforms across Europe and the UK with the size, scale and experience necessary to build a successful partnership with our firm.

Awards and independent recognition

Fidelity has secured numerous awards over the past few years, most notably in September 2021 when it was recognised at the UK platform awards with the ultimate accolade of ‘Platform of the Year’. The panel of judges acknowledged Fidelity’s client focus, impressive client satisfaction measures (Net Promoter Scores) and a seamless modernisation programme which extended and broadened out the range of services offered by the platform. Fidelity also recently secured the coveted 2023 Professional Adviser award for ‘Best Platform for Advisers’.

Fidelity continues to be recognised by leading research consultancies. In early 2023, Adviser Asset once again confirmed their platinum rating status, which has now been secured eight years running. Adviser Asset’s annual rating offers a clear indication of the industry’s view on Fidelity.

Fidelity has also been awarded 5-star ratings from Defaqto for both its platform and pension and achieved Gold service awards for both its platform and pension services – the highest ratings available. The Gold service assessment, which has been awarded for the last four years, is especially significant as it’s based on feedback from platform users.

Fidelity has been recognised by Professional Paraplanner through its ‘Best Provider Website’ award for both 2022 and 2023. This award is voted for by paraplanners and recognises the technical content and support material provided by the company’s website. These awards follow the Editor’s Choice Award 2021 – a special prize that recognised exceptional support given to paraplanners over the preceding five years.

NextWealth, the research consultancy, has recognised Fidelity Adviser Solutions as a Digital Process Champion for the past four years. This award is afforded to platforms who lead the pack by digitally enabling 90% of their document submission processes. NextWealth commissioned their research as a result of the pandemic as businesses were forced to re-examine their processes for documents and signature requirements and adjust development priorities. NextWealth examined 85 distinct processes across 20 platforms and Fidelity Adviser Solutions was recognised as a Digital Champion as they require scans or wet signatures for fewer than 10% of their processes.

Digital credentials and platform integration

Fidelity has a strong focus on evolving their platform in order to maximise efficiency for advisers. Examples of recent key developments include:

- The enhancement to their connectivity options for third parties by offering API access via the Origo Integration Hub. This enables adviser firms to trade with Fidelity directly from their back-office systems.
- Availability of a bulk take-on process to assist advisers moving assets without having to individually create them through the adviser portal.
- Fidelity has completely reviewed its re-registration and transfer process to help make it as simple and efficient as possible. It provides a fully-automated re-registration and transfer process that utilises TEX and Origo's 'Options Transfer' service.

Fidelity has extensive experience of working with third parties and has strong integration links with 20+ CRM systems including Adviser Cloud, Assyst, Bluecoat, Creative Technologies (Enable), Distribution Technology (Dynamic Planner), Durell, Fairs, IFA Systems, Intelliflo, IRESS (Adviser Office and XPLAN), JCS, Moneyinfo, Morningstar Adviser Workstation, O&M, Plum, Prestwood, Prompt Capital Monitoring, Sirius Swift, Sprint Enterprise, Synaptic, Time4advice (Curo) and True Potential.

Fidelity also offers an Upload & Send Documents service that enables advisers to efficiently upload documents from a list of 70+ instruction types. These are then automatically routed to the correct team in Fidelity to complete requests, saving time and reducing turnarounds times. Approaching 99% of key transactions are now being processed by Fidelity without the need for a wet paper signature.

In summary, Fidelity provides a unique digital experience for advisers, including the option for customers to self-serve via their iOS and Android apps

Ongoing development programme

Fidelity is wholly committed to the ongoing expansion of their adviser services business. In recent years, their development programme has delivered enhanced websites for customers and advisers, as well as an extended range of assets. In May 2022, Fidelity announced a partnership with Conquest Planning, a carefully chosen Fintech company, where Fidelity operate as the exclusive distributor of their financial planning software to the UK advisory market. This revolutionary software supports firms with goals-based financial planning which we believe will significantly reduce the time taken to build financial plans for clients.

Adviser feedback has been front and centre to the prioritisation of Fidelity's platform developments. One of their most recent enhancements delivered on the basis of direct adviser feedback is to their pension, which has led to more drawdown options (including the ability to manage automated regular crystallisations).

Easy to do business with

Fidelity offers an efficient administration and enhanced investment services proposition with as much focus as possible on conducting business online (99% of transactions are completed through 'straight through processing'). This is helped in no small part by providing a fully-automated re-registration and transfer process utilising TEX and Origo's Options Transfer service. This approach has been reflected in increased client satisfaction ratings, with Fidelity's relationship Net Promoter Score being at its highest-ever level, rising +22 points since 2018.

Dedicated relationship management

Fidelity employ people who have significant expertise and experience in supporting advisory organisations like ourselves. We can call on an appointed Fidelity Adviser Solutions Business Development Manager as well as the support of their regional business development and platform consultancy team to assist our advisers, para-planners and office staff by providing technical expertise and ongoing adviser and staff training.

Focused client support

Clients can easily access their portfolios either through Fidelity's online end-investor portal (ideal for PC and laptop users) or through its user-friendly mobile iOS and Android app – one of the highest rated in the sector – for clients more comfortable with tablet or smartphone access.

A reliable service

Fidelity has a robust Business Continuity Plan in place that meant it was fully open for business throughout the coronavirus pandemic. Fidelity places the highest priority on protecting client data and their systems – it has a comprehensive 24/7 Cyber Defence Operation in place which has been externally certified to exacting standards.

Supporting diversity and inclusion

As an employer, Fidelity is committed to diversity and inclusion and building a culture where everyone's voice is heard. Fidelity has made significant progress in this area in recent years – for example, reaching their target of 30% female representation in senior management roles one year ahead of schedule. Fidelity is committed to improving even further and has set five priority strands for their global D&I activities:

- Respecting and increasing cultural diversity
- Ensuring accessibility and enablement for people with disabilities and health conditions
- Achieving a greater gender balance and parity
- Embracing their LGBT+ people and communities
- Ensuring social mobility is no barrier to success.

These priorities are sponsored and led by business leads and those passionate about the cause.

A commitment to sustainability

As a company, Fidelity advocate and work with others in the industry to effect meaningful change. This includes being active in engagement around climate change and in calling for companies to do more to support the transition to a low-carbon economy. Fidelity is a signatory of the Principles for Responsible Investment and currently have an A+ rating. Fidelity joined Climate Action 100+ in 2017, is a supporter of the Taskforce on Climate-Related Financial Disclosure (TCFD), a member of the Carbon Disclosure Project and a partner of the Climate Bond Initiative.

Fidelity is accelerating its commitment to reduce company-wide operational carbon emissions to net zero to 2030, 10 years ahead of its previous goal of 2040. Fidelity's path to net zero will prioritise the avoidance and reduction of emissions through operational improvements in the energy efficiency of its offices, responsible business travel and the use of renewable energy. The new goal was set out as part of Fidelity's Corporate Sustainability Report and adds to other net-zero initiatives previously announced.

In addition to its net-zero target, Fidelity has committed to a range of other sustainability goals for 2024 focusing on the environment, workplace, supply chain and communities. These include:

- Improving the environment: A 25% reduction in energy consumption, 25% waste reduction and 80% increase to the recycling rate in comparison to 2019 levels.
- Strengthening the workplace: 35% of global senior management roles to be held by women and 45% of global workforce to be women.
- Buying responsibly from their suppliers: Environmental, social and governance (ESG) monitoring for 90% of their high-risk suppliers and 95% of tenders to include at least one diverse supplier.
- Creating resilient communities: Year-on-year increase in employee use of volunteering hours with 200+ charities supported.
